

Advisor Pledge

I, the undersigned, _____ (“advisor”), have been entrusted with the heart of _____ (“advisee”); the student shall have no need of panic.

I will seek good in myself and my student, and not evil all the days of my life.

I will seek publishing opportunities for my student and work to promote the student.

I will be like the merchant’s ship, bringing funding from afar.

I will be awake when it is night and give feedback to my student.

I will read the thesis and provide extensive comments.

I will guide my student with timely career advice, and strengthen my understanding of the current job market, and not the one from the past.

I will perceive that my student is highly qualified and will be eager to write recommendation letters for every job and postdoctoral training opportunities.

I will provide advice on appropriate clothing; my grooming will also be a model to my student.

I will only open my mouth with wisdom as I know that my words are the law of kindness.

Many faculties have come and gone but as my students will attest, and my department head also, I was the virtuous of them all.
